Diversity Learning Lab

Diversity is a fact of life for organizations today, and leaders determine the extent to which their organizations will leverage diversity as a source of strength. Lack of “authentic diversity leadership” was cited in a study by Cornell University as one of the top 10 reasons why diversity initiatives fail.

The Diversity Learning Lab provides in-depth learning in understanding the dynamics of differences. It increases the ability to lead, interact with and manage others more effectively. Integrating concepts of Emotional Intelligence (proven to be 4 times more important than intelligence and technical skills combined) within the context of “diversity,” participants significantly increase their ability to:

- respect and relate well to people from varied backgrounds
- understand diverse world views and be more sensitive to differences
- hold themselves and others accountable
- create an inclusive environment where all talent can contribute to their fullest potential

Designed for those in leadership, human resources and diversity positions, the DLL provides a life changing experience that will improve the way you lead, manage and relate to others. At Pope & Associates', we believe that making your workplace a better place to work, not only makes dollars, it makes sense!

“The Diversity Learning Lab was an eye-opening experience. It gave me a much deeper understanding of myself and the challenges that diverse employees face. I emerged with an even stronger commitment to ensure we maintain a welcoming and supportive company culture that allows people from all backgrounds to achieve their dreams.”
